Chief Gu; Bender Reports Small Loss This Spring

Chief Bender, chief of the Everglades Fire Control District, covers eleven counties in south Florida, states that his vast territory has been quiet during the past several months, has been most fortunate in the small fire losses. The worst fire experienced was down off Miami several weeks ago and at the present there are trouble-some fires in the mud land west of Ft. Lauderdale and one over in the new development land south east of the canal at Twenty Mile Beach. Neither of these are threatening but still create a fire hazard.

Records of the Control show that this summer has been the longest dry, growing losses, and low water table in the past fifteen years and that greater fire losses have not prevailed in almost two decades.

Chief Bender accredits the low loss to the fine work done by the fire patrolmen and their ability to make quick reports to the control headquarters in Belle Glade supplemented by the additional reporting done by the State Highway Patrolmen who work in conjunction with the fire patrol.

At the present time the Control has ten fire patrolmen whose traveling cars are equipped with two way radio outfitts for reporting purposes, who cover eight of the eleven counties of the district. St. Lucie, Monroe and Collier counties do not have the same service. In addition, the Control has permanent fire fighting outfitts located at designated points. Here at Belle Glade is maintained a garage for the repairing of all disabled equipment used by the Control which means a big expense savings.

Lions Club Elects W. P. Risk As New President

The annual election of officers was observed at the Wednesday meeting of the Lions Club and at one stage a near riot occurred on the floor, as the objectors claimed the ticket nominees were getting off too easy. The joke was turned on the chief disturbance when W. L. Cunningham, who was tallitwisted, took over and will be expected from next week.

The personnel of the new cabinet is: President, W. P. Risk; first vice president, Ralph Kirk; second vice president, William Weeks; secretary, Spottwood. Continued on page six

It may be that many have been missed, but if there are any left, Mrs. Elliott and others will modify her count at her home in Palmetto or phone 4391. It is of much importance that every person be enrolled on the county list. Do it now.

Prosperous Season In Glades Fast Drawing To Close

Heat, Drough and Thrips Heavily Damage The Bean Crop

County Agent M. U. Mounts and Forest Ranger of the Extension Service, the fore part of the week, had a real headache, over the question of being able to retain imported and local labor forces on hand to complete the local harvest period.

The War Food Administration sent the shivers down these men's back when it proposed moving at once 900 Bahamian negro workers from the Glades section to Virginia to pick the strawberries early, pointing out that the essential potato and tomato crop in the Glades was just entering upon harvest, both the largest spring crops possibly ever grown in the Glades, and that removal of either type of labor would cause heavy loss of both food products and income to the farmers.

They pointed out these crops were essential to the luxury food type, which few people could afford to purchase. The negotiations ended in a sort of stalemate. First that the Glades must immediately deliver a proportionate number of workers, and the balance to be released as soon as possible, though no workers had yet been transferred.

Lon Currier, who is engaged in extensive farm food producing projects, told a Herald man that the local potato crop would practically reach the 1000 car load limit and that quality was of the best. He also praised the tomato crop. Potato men have begun digging in earnest and he expected to see packing houses flooded with the spuds, taxing their processing equipment to the limit.

Before the fall of Germany it seemed evident, under the new OPA ceiling price release, growers had expected the FOB price to be $5 or more, but now the highest price may not be over $3.50 the hundred weight up to May 1st, after the date of the price?

Within the next two weeks the new price and new ceiling gathering experience in the Glades would come on and unless local and imported labor could be retained here for the harvest, growers were in for severe losses of a financial nature. Other leading growers of these crops substantiated the statements made by Mr. Currier.

Director Speer said that if present labor can be held here, there will be sufficient workers on hand for assignment for the gathering of all the remaining crops not harvested. However, the migrant laborers are getting anxious to get the local crops out of the way so that they can move along up the line to still more promising fields of action, and are assisted by government packers for the Government at Okeechobee, had appealed to the auditorium, Friday night, at which the annual election of officers was the feature.

American Legion Selects Jones As New Commander

Everglades Post, No. 20 American Legion, held a well attended session at the City Hall

A record of the vote for officers shows that the official personnel of the post for the year 1945-46 will be: Commander, H. E. Jones; Vice-Commander, George Bender, Jr.; Finance Officer, The Rev. J. W. Wenzel; Chaplain, Rev. J. O. Jameson; Historian, Herbert D. Beck; sergeant-at-arms, J. R. Davidson; service officer, M. A. Murphy; adjutant, Ralph Ripke; members of the executive committee, R. Y. Crecy, Luther Jones, W. L. Cunningham, L. E. Will, George Bender, Ralph Freeman, J. R. Davidson.

The post war officers of the post, who are serving in the service, will be given preference in selection for these important positions, to be appointed to new offices in the coming year.

The new official cabinet for the coming year will have four

World War II veterans out of the seven officers elected, who have been operating in offices on the executive committee. This act was taken to bring about a new era in post managerial affairs, in which the latest Legion members can show their worth and initiation in new work and programs of activity.

Joe Friedman, the hustling chairman of the executive committee reported that the net proceeds from that affair would make the Crippled Children's project around $2,000 richer.

The post would award the $50.00 War Bond for the largest sale of bonds at the carnival grounds, with a record of around $14,000, to the Belle Glade Legion.

The post also voted to make a $100 to the athletic field fund.

The Belle Glade Rotary Club will omit its dinner meet at the Community house this Friday noon but later in the evening will escort their women folk to the Country Club for a dinner.

The Rotarians are always looking forward with anticipation and pleasure by the Anns.

The final wins will be held with a hole play on Sunday the 20th.

The first matches will have until Saturday, May 12, the second until Saturday, May 19.

Prizes will be given for winning, runner-up and consolation in all flights, both men and women and are donated by local business houses and individuals.

The annual club championship tournament in flights of eight will begin Sunday the 6th and continue thru Sunday the 20th.

Qualification will continue thru Saturday afternoon when pairings will be made for the beginning on Sunday. Players are informed that they must declare that fact before commencing qualification play.

Interest shown to date indicates that the club will attract a goodly number of players for the record of 67. There will be some hot contests in the first two flights of men and possibly three flights in the women's matches.

The Herald representative called upon our young soldier citizen for an interview, but owing to army orders and censorship requirements, there was little of the vast amount of interesting data that he might have given, that he would not venture to release without permission. However, in a ruffing conversation, while we do not attempt to state verbatim, he did gain these facts.

That the Lieutenant had in excess of four years in the service, had seen training and actual warfare in Scotland, England.

An Accounting Due

With the war headed for a successful conclusion, the time is nearing for Washington to start on the biggest accounting job in history.

As a basis for taking stock and cutting our post-war cost to fit our cloth, should not the government render a financial report to its 50,000,000 taxpayers, its 70,000,000 war bond holders, and the 137,000,000 citizens who comprise America's "stockholders?"

Such an accounting would help Congress regain control of the nation's purse-strings. It would open up the books of the 40 or more governmental corporations which control some $30 billion, and, for the most part, have not been subject to audit or liable to uniform reports.

Finally, it would prepare the way for a rapid return to a budget where income balances outgo, so we could plan the payment of interest on the national debt, and its eventual retirement.

When Politics Spells Tragedy

Criticism of the caliber of treatment being received by the veterans' hospitals throughout the nation, is spreading with the rapidity of a prairie fire. The American men in the armed forces on active duty receive the best medical care in the world. But when they are referred to the status of veterans and are referred to the tender mercies of the Veterans' Administration, they are subjected to incredibly poor hospital and medical care, according to reports. They have been receiving this kind of abuse apparently because the veterans' hospitals are swamped in red tape and high authorities are politicians rather than medical experts. Altogether, it is a shameful episode, and not the least tragic fact is that it will take precious time to effect a clean-up.

With public opinion aroused, there will undoubtedly be an investigation—a bill has already been introduced in Congress demanding a thorough one. But there will be interminable delays while the bureaucratic machinery of government turns out endless reports. Some day, months or years from now, veterans lying helpless in wards of these government hospitals, who all this time are getting care which would not be countenanced for a moment in a modern hospital, may get relief, if still alive.

This is what happens when politics is mixed with medicine. It is a terrible example that should awaken all of us to the danger of hasty action on the question of how far we permit government to go in controlling civilian medical care. A mistake could mean lowered medical standards and the needless sacrifice of countless lives.

No Easy Road Back

There is so much loose talk in political circles about the "right to a job" that it has become almost meaningless. "Rights" have become confused with "opportunities."

The United States Constitution and Bill of Rights guarantee every citizen fundamental rights that make him a free man to enjoy the opportunity to go as far as he can, based on his ability, ambition and energy. Beyond that, government owes a free man nothing, except if he is destitute or mentally deficient. Government should then provide satisfactory means for his care and comfort—that is what government is for. But to try to fool the people with the idea that the government owes a man a living and can create and maintain countless millions of jobs, without destroying a free country, is rank hypocrisy.

Vote-seeking politicians are trying to make millions of war workers think a benign government can cover all their troubles after the war. Within reason, a government can widen the "opportunities" whereby men can have jobs, recreation and high wages. The extent to which one takes advantage of opportunities depends upon the will and purpose of the individual. As government or anyone else can expand "opportunities," the chances for advancement in living standards are greater, but in no sense are such benefits "rights" to which anyone is entitled, without respect to his own effort to obtain them.

History has shown that when the people of any nation depend on government to do their thinking and providing for them, it is only a short time before they lose their ambition, their initiative and their freedom. There will be no easy road to full employment and prosperity after this destructive war. Only a people who work and save and do not look to government for handouts, will survive and retain their personal liberties.

Why Retail Mark-Ups Vary

In these days of controversy over prices, the publicity given retail mark-ups may bring to stores an inquiry like the following from a farmer: "Why are some food items handled by retailers on very narrow margins, while many farm products have to carry much larger mark-ups?"

In answering this, the First National Stores of Boston, said: "There is no simple answer. In an economically operated store where costs are the ultimate control, the size of mark-up reflects historical

BIBLE QUESTIONS ANSWERED BY THE VOICE & PROPHECY INTERNATIONAL BIBLE BROADCASTER

Question—I want to be a child of God, but how can I?
Answer—Galatians 3:26: "For ye are all the children of God by faith in Christ Jesus."

Q.—Do you think that wicked men will actually be punished after this life?

A.—Hero is what we read in Psalm 2:9: "The Lord said unto me, Thou art my son; today have I begotten thee." To descend, go thy out of temptation, and to rescue the unlost unto the day of judgment to be glorified.

Q.—How can I tell whether a spirit is of God or not?

A.—Use the Bible test found in Isaiah 8:18, 20: "And when they shall say, 'Thou hast a spirit that hath divided you'; then say, 'I have a spirit given me by God.' And for a prophet, when he cometh to you in the name of God, let him speak not according to this word; it is because there is no light in him." Also 2 John 7: "For many deceivers, entering into the world, who confess not that Jesus Christ is come in the flesh; this is a deceiver and an antichrist."

Q.—Is Paradise a place where souls go on the way to heaven?

A.—Paradise is in God's presence. In Revelation 2:7: "He that overcometh, let him hear what the Spirit saith unto the churches; To him that overcometh, will I give to eat of the tree of life, which standeth in the midst of the paradise of God." And Revelation 22:1, 2: "And he shewed me a pure river of water of life, clear as crystal, which proceedeth out of the throne of God and of the Lamb. In the midst of the street of it, and on either side of the river, was the tree of life, which bare twelve manner of fruits, and yielded its fruit every month; and the leaves of the tree were for the healing of the nations."

Notice that the tree of life is in Paradise and that it grows by the river of life, which proceeds from the throne of God and of the Lamb; God is in heaven. (Revelation 22:1)

Therefore, Paradise and heaven must be the same.

CINEMATIC CHATTER

By Malcolm Miller
Tea Sunday-Monday offering at the Everglades Theatre promises to be a very interesting show from two points of view. The players and bring back some of the best of the old stand bys. Here is the cast: Joyce Reynolds, Robert Hutton, Ann Harding, Edward Arnold, Robert Benchley, Hattie McDaniel, Ruth Tolson, Eddie Foy, Jr., and Colleen Townsend. A very nice cast of performers. I am sure you will agree.

The story could be laid in any small town in the U. S. A. except that this town has an Army camp and the young generation of the town decide to do something about entertainment. What, they do, in a large way.

$10 cars of perishable vegetables have left the Glades from January 1, 75 per cent of the movement being snap beans and cabbage, also much escarole and tomatoes. Celery from this area all went to Belle Glade for processing and shipment.

The club voted to make an appropriation $100 to the Athlete field project and to place the money in the club treasury. Being the best salesmen the club will get an additional $50 bond from the American Legion.

The duty presented the telegram from the Legion, Lee Dillan, Atlanta, Ga., which was read and showed its purpose: "The Lions club of Belle Glade, Florida, join you and your organization in solemn thoughts in the Memorial service for the late Sgt. James Daniel Howington, whose commendable conduct will be remembered. We are proud that his colleagues recognize him as a genuine American soldier, who pursued his duties with diligence, determination and honor."

Don't try to run away from any Road Patrolman these days if he should signal you to stop. He has business with you, for the purpose of inspecting the condition and operation of your brakes.

This inspection by patrolmen is going on all over the state as a safety measure and to determine whether cars are road worthy. If your brakes need re-lining or readjusting, opportunity will be given you to have them repaired, but if you fail to follow out orders then you are in for something before a magistrate.

Patrolmen are busy in the Glades section making such inspections and in numerous instances have car owners take their cars to garages for examination. Motor owners could confer time and favor to the inspectors if they would drive their equipment to their own garages and have a check up made on the condition of their brakes and thus alleviate the necessity of road inspection.

However, the coming week Chairman Lee Puckett is directing all his sub-committees to turn on the power in their organization to get out their sales going toward the goal which will be expected from this region.

Chairman Puckett points out that now that victory appears favorable for allied forces in Germany, that people can well afford to make a Victory Thanksgiving day purchase of bonds, a loan to the government to bring about a total clean up against the enemy warning nations.

Mrs. W. B. Granger pleased the company with her vocal selections. The social hour was immensely enjoyed by the entire women in attendance.

This club was organized in 1927 and was federated with the State Federation of Woman's Clubs in the state and its past presidents have been Mrs. J. F. Brown, Mrs. D. V. Bryan, Mrs. D. Y. OBSERVATIONS

(Continued from page one) truck loads of vegetables going out every month; eating would have been scant and thin in spots. Many farmers grew crops which did not necessarily desire to do so, but were not able enough to answer a call in need.

One of the first things the Government asked of the farmers was to list all their cultivable lands, machinery and equipment, and estimated amount of labor needed for the production of each farm. Many farmers, like others "hedged" and did not do so, and some of the former now seem to have a justifiable "grout" in that they allege that the sprinkling of new equipment and tentative plans made for the installation dinner at which the Auxiliary will entertain the Legion and a joint installation of officers will be held in the near future at the Club House.

It sort of makes one amazed even those having potato in their jeans, when they size up local eating house meal checks these days. Seems to be a newcomer to town that they are a bit high in comparison to charges in other places where he has migrated.

Mr. and Mrs. John Scullen, Mr. and Mrs. Fredrick, Mrs. Herbert Beck, Mrs. Ruth Beck, Mrs. Luther Jones. — Of this list, Mrs. Brown served twice in the presidency in 1928 and in 1930-31; and Mrs. Luther Jones in 1943-44 and 45.

If you ask him how much he has collected on the $10,000 project and he will promptly reply,

"I have collected $1500 to come in from unreported sources, not including the promised Board of Public Instruction donation for seats."

The Council has employed Archie Hodges, Clewiston civil engineer, to survey and lay out the several fields to be used of the field, which work will be started the coming week. The Council has also closed the deal for the poles and lighting fixtures for field illumination, which will be the brightest to be found on any sports field in the Glades section.

With funds available, it may be possible to put in an additional building for club house purposes, for the utilization of home and visiting teams, and some other yet undetermined features.

All the potatoes which are to be harvested from the 2500 to 2800 acres in the Glades section, were piled in one location until it certainly would make a whopper of a pile. This aggregate is going to tax railway capacities to the limit in the markets, those visiting potato eaters, who attended the Field Day at the Everglades Experiment Station, certainly had more than passing interest in the methods of Glades potato cultivation, vine and vine and growing crops and the methods used in fighting plant diseases.

Fritz Stein is minus several bushels of good potatoes, as a result of the "hand digging" those visitors did in his fields.
